Eugene Joseph

Taught at Rhode Island Junior College and Rhode Island School of Design

REHOBOTH, Mass. — Eugene Joseph, 44, of 204 Anawan St., associate professor of art at Rhode Island Junior College since 1973, died Wednesday afternoon at the college.

A former assistant professor of industrial design at Rhode Island School of Design, he had been associate professor of industrial art at Berea College in Kentucky. While in Kentucky, he was a designer developer for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Born in New York City on April 24, 1934, he was a son of Eve (Begeiman) Joseph of that city and the late William Joseph. He was a graduate of New York State University at Harpur and of the Syracuse School of Fine Arts.

Besides his mother, survivors include two sons, Adam and Jeremy Joseph, both of Berea, Ky., and a sister, Mrs. Naomi Salles of North Woodmere, Long Island.

His funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St., Providence.
