

SHEILA COLALUCA

1/12/97 T &

SEEKONK — Sheila A. ColalUCA, 45, of 83 Linden Rd., a waitress at the Bagpiper Restaurants in Fairhaven and Middletown, R.I. before retiring three years ago, died Sunday at Rhode Island Hospital in Providence, after a three-year illness.

A resident of Seekonk for 14 years, she previously lived in Lakeville and North Dighton.

She was also previously a waitress for 10 years at Eileen Darling's Restaurant. She was a communicant of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church and a member of the I Can Cope Club of Rhode Island Hospital.

Born in Dighton, she was the daughter of Alice (Marvel) Rogers of Dighton and the late Frank Rogers.

Besides her mother, she leaves two daughters, Lisa J. Eva of Rehoboth and Terri-Ann ColalUCA of Seekonk; a brother, Dighton Town Clerk Frank R. Rogers; and a sister, Jeanne Noons of Dighton.